

Adapting to (Meeting) Climate Change

Jane Haskell, Extension Professor

Gabe McPhail & Andrew Dorr, Community Organizers, Vinalhaven, Maine

Meeting Climate Stories...

In any meeting you attend what are 4 or 5 things you'd like or want to be present?

Meeting climate is critical skills insight

facts

In all situations, climate is affected by cognitive

physical social and emotional social & emotional

cognitive

physical

Social & Emotional

Climate for creativity, learning and effectiveness

Physical

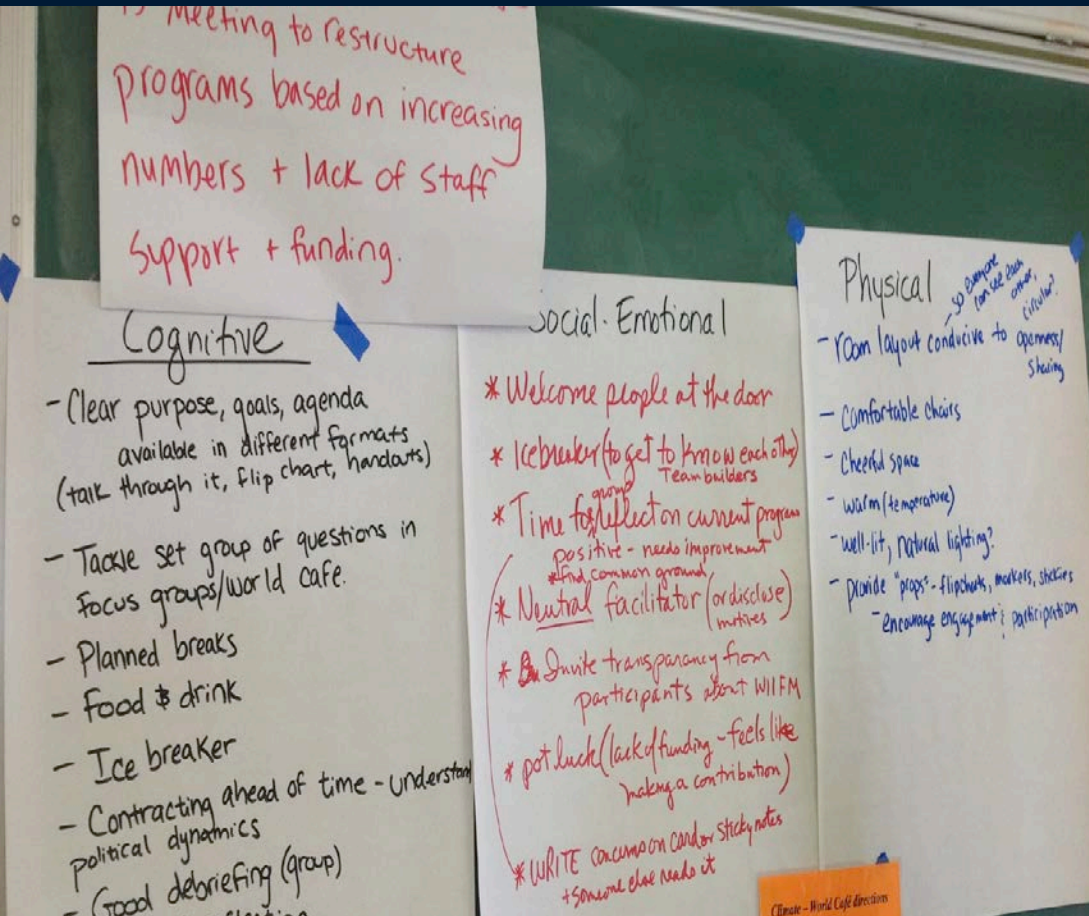

Cognitive

World Climate Café

3 real situations

groups of 4 or 5

What insights or ideas do you have about adapting the meeting climate...

Create (or adapt) an appropriate meeting climate.

- It is critical for effective work or learning
- Different types of learning and processes require different climates
- Enmeshed social & emotional, cognitive and physical factors interact and are impacted
- Climate starts before anyone steps into the room

Jane Haskell, Extension Professor

Gabe McPhail & Andrew Dorr, Community Organizers, Vinalhaven, Maine

Jane Haskell – jane.haskell@maine.edu

(Select photos by Edwin Remsberg)