

Open Rank Extension Educator – Rural Prosperity Nebraska (Lincoln County)
University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Do you have the drive to help create 21st Century rural community prosperity? Nebraska Extension is searching for an Extension Educator who catalyzes opportunities, provides strong regional expertise, leads impactful learning programs, and serves as a coach for communities poised to thrive. Core to this role is the ability to conduct community outreach, visitation, and engagement with community leaders and residents. Nebraska Extension is an organization that values individuals who demonstrate excellence, adapt easily, exhibit passion for helping others, are team players, and are excellent communicators. We have an excellent opportunity for a full-time faculty position located in North Platte, Nebraska and serving McPherson, Logan, Lincoln, Perkins, Arthur, and Keith Counties. As a member of the Nebraska Extension team, you will collaborate with research and extension faculty who are leaders in their field. We want individuals who are self-directed and thrive in an autonomous work environment. You will work with high-performing teams to create and deliver world-class, innovative learning experiences that empower Nebraskans to improve their lives around critical issues.

Recognizing that diversity enhances creativity, innovation, impact, and a sense of belonging, the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources (IANR) and Nebraska Extension are committed to creating learning, research, Extension programming, and work environments that are inclusive of all forms of diversity. Consistent with the University's N2025 Strategic Plan, we see every person and every interaction as important to our collective well-being and our ability to deliver on our mission.
